AAA AWARDS WILD SAGE FOUR DIAMONDS; ONLY RESTAURANT IN JACKSON TO WIN DISTINCTION

Jackson Hole, WY—November, 2004—The Wild Sage Restaurant at The Rusty Parrot Lodge & Spa has received the AAA Four Diamond Award—the only restaurant in Jackson to earn the prestigious designation.

“We are thrilled with the recognition,” says General Manager Jim Promo. “We continue to work toward providing guests with a memorable dining experience—and the award tells us we’re moving in the right direction.”

The 26-seat Wild Sage Restaurant offers exceptional regional cuisine, as well as fresh seafood. Dinner is served in full view of an exhibition-style kitchen in the Rusty Parrot Lodge’s gathering room with its river rock fireplace. The restaurant has recently been featured on the Food Network, in the New York Times, Elle Décor, the Chicago Sun Times, and Cowboys and Indians magazine.

Kyle Walker, Wild Sage Executive Chef, moved to Jackson in July 2001, having earned two degrees from Charleston, South Carolina’s Johnson & Wales University—an A.A.S. in Culinary Arts and a B.S. in Food Service Management. Since joining the Wild Sage, Kyle has also attended classes at the prestigious Culinary Institute of America’s Graystone Institute in Napa Valley.

Established in 1990, the Rusty Parrot is a 31-room lodge, just minutes from the Square in Jackson Hole, has established itself as the lodging choice of discerning travelers worldwide. A member of Small Luxury Hotels of the World, the Lodge was recently featured in Travel & Leisure’s August 2004 issue, which named it one of the top five hotels in the U.S. and number 28 in the world. It has also been featured in Conde Nast Traveler’s 2005 Gold List, which named it one of the world’s best places to stay; Ski magazine touts the Lodge as one of the “Ten Best Small Hotels”; and USA Today voted it one of the “Ten Best Places to Snuggle in Front of a Fire.”

AAA’s Diamond rating program is the only hotel and restaurant review system in the nation that uses specially trained, full-time field representatives. The Auto Club uses its own staff as part of AAA’s national network to review establishments without prior notification using detailed rating procedures.
