

P.J.'s AND PAMPERING

Rusty Parrot Lodge & Spa's Girls' Getaway offers downtime for grownups

Jackson Hole, Wyoming – September, 2007 – Grab your favorite pajamas and your closest friend and head to the Rusty Parrot Lodge & Spa in Jackson, Wyoming, for its luxe new Girls' Getaway package. Reconnect and rejuvenate with your best girlfriends and a package that's designed for pampering and relaxing. Enjoy three nights at the Rusty Parrot; a made-to-order chef-prepared breakfast each morning; two one-hour spa treatments at in-house Body Sage Spa, including a stress release massage and Native American-inspired Eh-Wah-Kee mud wrap; dinner at the award-winning AAA Four Diamond-rated Wild Sage Restaurant; a private yoga class; and a visit to the National Museum of Wildlife Art

Girlfriends on the go will also find plenty of unstructured time for shopping in Jackson Hole boutique shopping, enjoying the hotel's rooftop hot tub, taking a nap, or just relaxing by the fireplace. Perfect for mothers and daughters, sisters and best friends, the package is $725 per person, based on double occupancy; $995 for singles. The Girls' Getaway is available October 9 through December 20, 2007 (excluding Thanksgiving weekend November 21-24); 2008 spring and fall dates also are available.

A member of Small Luxury Hotels of the World, the Rusty Parrot Lodge & Spa was built in 1990 by owner Ron Harrison, who envisioned a different type of lodge near the shopping, art galleries, and restaurants of Jackson's Town Square. Since its inception, the Lodge has been recognized with many prestigious awards including the AAA Four Diamond Award, Conde Nast Traveler's Gold List and Travel + Leisure's World's Best Awards—including being rated number one hotel in the Continental U.S. and Canada by readers in 2005. The Rusty Parrot has been featured in media including NBC's "The Today Show," USA Today and The New York Times. The Rusty Parrot and its Wild Sage restaurant continue to be Jackson's only lodge and restaurant combination to receive the prestigious AAA Four Diamond Award.
