

MOUNTAIN LIVING MAGAZINE RATES WILD SAGE AT THE RUSTY PARROT LODGE & SPA AMONG TOP RESTAURANTS

Jackson, Wyoming—January 2008—The Wild Sage restaurant at the Rusty Parrot Lodge & Spa was chosen as one of the “Top Mountain Restaurants” in Mountain Living’s just-released list in the January/February 2008 issue of the magazine. Praising its “cozy ambience and over the top food,” Mountain Living featured just 14 restaurants on its list; the Wild Sage was the only Wyoming eatery included.

“We are honored to be selected by Mountain Living’s editors,” says Jim Promo, Rusty Parrot General Manager. “The distinction is a tribute to Executive Chef Jeffrey Blackwell’s outstanding cuisine, and our staff’s dedication to providing exceptional service.”

Dinner in the Wild Sage’s intimate 26-seat gathering room is served in full view of an exhibition-style kitchen, with a cozy wood fire often burning in the river rock fireplace. Blackwell’s creative American menu features organically grown produce, local game and meats, sustainable fish and seafood, and freshly-prepared desserts. The restaurant offers an extensive, carefully selected wine list to accompany the menu offerings. Made-to-order breakfasts include original preparations of such popular favorites as Bananas Foster-topped pecan waffles and Grand Marnier French Toast with Blood Orange coulis.

The Wild Sage has received the prestigious AAA Four Diamond award for four consecutive years, and has been featured on The Food Network and in The New York Times, Elle Décor and The Chicago Sun Times.

The Rusty Parrot Lodge & Spa was built in 1990 by owner Ron Harrison, who envisioned a different type of lodge near the shopping, art galleries and restaurants of Jackson’s Town Square. A member of the Small Luxury Hotels of the World, the lodge is the epitome of comfort and luxury – from its comfortable beds and in-room fireplaces to the rooftop hot tub and on-site spa. The Rusty Parrot has been regularly recognized on Condé Nast Traveler’s Gold List and Travel + Leisure’s World’s Best Awards, and has been featured in media from NBC’s Today Show to USA Today and The New York Times.
