

National Accolades for Rusty Parrot Lodge

AAA, Travel + Leisure and Conde Nast Traveler recognize Jackson Hotel

Jackson, Wyoming – January 15, 2009 – The Rusty Parrot Lodge & Spa has been honored by AAA, Travel + Leisure and Conde Nast Traveler, announced lodge General Manager Jim Promo. The Rusty Parrot recently was awarded AAA's Four Diamond Lodging Award for the 17th consecutive year, and its Wild Sage restaurant was awarded the Four Diamond Restaurant rating for the 5th consecutive year.

The January 2009 issue of Travel + Leisure magazine included the Rusty Parrot Lodge & Spa in its "500 World's Best Hotels" list, where an international team of reporters and editors checked out the 500 highest rated hotels, inns and lodges and identified what makes them special.

The Rusty Parrot also was named to Conde Nast Traveler's 2008 "Top 50 Ski Hotels"—where the magazine's readers ranked their favorite places to ski and stay in North America.

"We're pleased with the continued recognition of the Rusty Parrot Lodge & Spa and the Wild Sage on a national and even international level," said Promo. "We strive to continue to provide our guests with top-rated hospitality and value."

A member of Small Luxury Hotels of the World since 2004, the Rusty Parrot Lodge & Spa was built in 1990 by owner Ron Harrison, who envisioned a different type of lodge near the shopping, art galleries and restaurants of Jackson's Town Square. Since its inception, the lodge has been recognized with many prestigious awards with regular placements on the Conde Nast Traveler Gold List and Travel + Leisure World's Best Awards—including being named one of the 2008 World's Best Hotel Values by Travel + Leisure readers. The Rusty Parrot has been featured in media from NBC's "The Today Show" to USA Today and The New York Times. Both the Rusty Parrot and its Wild Sage restaurant continue to receive the prestigious AAA Four Diamond Award.
